

SUNY SULLIVAN

ANNUAL REPORT 20-21

VISION

SUNY Sullivan is the heart of higher education and culture
in the Catskills.

MISSION

SUNY Sullivan is the leader of innovative higher education and a catalyst for workforce development
throughout the Sullivan Catskills and beyond.
Our diverse community cultivates personal growth and professional advancement, preparing students for success in a sustainable and interconnected world.

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Quite simply, the world has changed. Our graduating class of 2021 was commended for their perseverance and tenacity that allowed them to learn how to overcome fear and go forward no matter what obstacles were thrown in their path. Themes of testing our resolve and commitment to ourselves and caring for those around us were the encouraging messages of the ceremony imparted to our newest alumni.

While we are all focusing on the COVID-19 pandemic and its impact on our community, I wanted to take an opportunity to let you know of some of the things that are happening at SUNY Sullivan to support our students and our county now and in the future.

The entire College has pulled together to support our students and local community. Our amazing faculty and staff are working with the entire SUNY system and our community partners such as Sullivan County BOCES, local school districts and Sullivan 180 to provide high quality educational opportunities and social support at a time when it is needed most.

The impact of COVID-19 will last. This situation presents many opportunities to address students' needs in innovative ways. We recognize that many people will need retraining to participate in the inevitable economic recovery in which many employment sectors may no longer provide the jobs they once did. So, in addition to offering our current two-year degrees and certificates, SUNY Sullivan is looking to the future by building new professional development and certification programs, in the fields of Healthcare, Sustainability, and Business and Entrepreneurship for example, which will be both accessible and affordable.

At times like this, I'm reminded of words recited by kids all across the country: the 4H pledge. As a person from a family with a long history in 4H, I think about what an impact this simple pledge has had on me and my life. It really sums up how I think about my job as a community college professional. Now more than ever:

*I pledge my head to clearer thinking,
My heart to greater loyalty,
My hands to larger service,
and my health to better living,
for my club, my community, my country, and my world.*

As we move forward, we will all look for ways to better educate ourselves, engage in professional development programs, and expand community engagement, I remain optimistic that the members of our community will emerge from this trying time as better prepared citizens. I am confident that we will come out stronger, more skilled, and smarter than when this started. SUNY Sullivan is here and we are #sunysullivanstrong.

Jay Quaintance,
President, Sullivan County Community College

2021 COMMENCEMENT

and Class Speaker

SATURDAY, MAY 15TH, 2021

SUNY Sullivan's 57th Commencement Ceremony

"Graduation is the highpoint of the academic year where we celebrate the accomplishments of students and the collaborative work that makes up the academic enterprise. Last year, the pandemic forced us to do so virtually. While it was appropriate given the circumstances, this year we committed to a more traditional face-to-face commencement. With the help of Bethel Woods Center for the Arts we were able get together and mark these important milestones! Congratulations to our students and thank you to the faculty and staff for making it possible!"

Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence

The Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence honors State University of New York students who have best demonstrated their integration of academic excellence with other aspects of their lives, which may include leadership, campus involvement, athletics, career achievement, community service or creative and performing arts.

Michelle Miralle, 2021 Chancellor's Award Winner and class speaker for her outstanding record of community service and sound academic achievement, accepted the award for General Excellence and provided remarks representing the Class of 2021.

We laugh about it now, but I think I can speak on behalf of the cohort when I say the journey to get here wasn't easy. The last two years came with the typical college jitters, stress, late night study sessions, and way too much caffeine. Throw a pandemic into the mix, and that's a recipe for disaster.

As a class, we had committed ourselves to finish what we started. We pushed to do incredible things and now we stand here at the finish line.

When March of 2020 came and we were hit with the COVID-19 pandemic. We were ripped from classes and transitioned to a life of remote learning. We were forced to learn in ways we never expected. The transition was hard. No one tells you that online schooling requires a lot of discipline, and if you've never done it before, it can get pretty discouraging, uncomfortable and challenging.

Here I was during "the year of the nurse," about to finish my second semester of nursing school halfway to my goal, ready to consider a career change. After a couple of weeks, the shock wore off, and I remembered the famous words of my instructor Ms. Dorothy Valse, "Nursing is an ever-changing, ever-evolving profession." There was no option to quit or to change careers. Eventually online learning was no longer frightening and intimidating. Zoom was easier to maneuver and though we spent our last year of school away from our peers, and only seeing them in virtual classrooms, we persevered.

I'm blessed to have grown so much in this time at Sullivan. I became a member of the Student Government as a Student Trustee, I was a member of the Board of Trustees, and I worked with the Strategic Planning and Academic Board on a new 5-year plan for the school.

People can take many things away from you, but they can never take your education.

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Omar Gai, 2021 Chancellor's Award Winner, accepted the award for General Excellence and class speaker for his outstanding record of community service and sound academic achievement.

A first generation college student, Omar immigrated to the United States from Ghana, West Africa at the age of fourteen.

Omar graduated with an Associate's Degree in Liberal Arts and Sciences, majoring in Business Administration and maintained a 3.6 GPA.

Today marks a beginning of a new journey. If we can win collectively during a pandemic, we can certainly win in the future. During the last year I remember juggling school and work, telling myself- things cannot get any worse.

I just want to encourage my fellow graduates that there is so much more we can win together in the future.

When I emigrated from a small country in West Africa, things were not easy for me, especially in school. I had to adapt to a new environment and new learning system.

I am very grateful for the decision I made to attend SUNY Sullivan. This decision made me who I am today.

With the encouragement of the faculty and staff, I was able to excel by becoming involved on campus. I am a member of the National Society of Leadership and Success and the Phi Theta Kappa Honors Society. These platforms provided me access to meet intelligent, caring, and great leaders from around the world. I know there are other wonderful colleges out there; however, what we have here is unique.

A big thank you to my family, friends, faculty, and staff for their contribution to my success.

To my fellow graduates,
do not take this moment for granted. Always strive to do your absolute best in whatever you are doing,
never quit, and never give up.
Put the degree you earned here to good use by making real change in the world.

The 2021 Commencement Guest Speaker

Bert McDowell Jr., '07, is a personal injury attorney in the State of Connecticut. He opened his own law firm, Bert McDowell Injury Law, LLC. Through his legal career, Attorney McDowell received multiple awards and honors.

Earlier this year, Bert was selected as one of Connecticut Magazine's 40 Under 40, for his success in the legal community and his passion for community outreach. He has been selected to the Super Lawyers Rising Stars three years in a row, a prestigious group of young lawyers throughout the country.

When Attorney McDowell formed his law firm, he created a scholarship for high school seniors, in honor of his late grandmother. Giving back to the community has always been a priority for him and his firm. He started a grocery card giveaway for those in need during the pandemic.

Before he was "Attorney McDowell," many at Sullivan County Community College knew him as "BJ". The starting shooting guard for the Men's Basketball Team.

In 2007, BJ was on the undefeated Men's Basketball Team that went on to win the NJCAA National Championship. In the following year, BJ was named NJCAA National Player of the Year. Aside from his highlights as an athlete, he also excelled as a student.

BJ graduated from Sullivan County Community College with a 3.8 grade point average. The same grind, determination, and drive that he showed in basketball practice and in class, is the same grind, determination, and drive that has propelled him as a young lawyer. He ultimately graduated with his Bachelor's in Arts from Pace University (2010), and received his Juris Doctors from Quinnipiac University School of Law (2013).

NEW PROGRAMS

Direct Support Practice Certificate Program

A one-year certification for students interested in pursuing a career working with individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities, as well as current practitioners looking to advance their current position.

The Direct Support Practice Certificate Program prepares students to join the community of care that supports and promotes all the aspects of a productive, meaningful, and fulfilling life for people with disabilities.

Students gain an understanding of care through an inclusive model that safeguards and enriches the health and well-being of individuals with complex needs. Through academic courses and a practicum provided at a community organization, the program offers tangible ways to gain confidence and competence in specific skill areas.

"This groundbreaking program, developed in partnership with agencies such as the Center for Discovery, New Hope Community, ARC and Crystal Run Village, will help us to develop a sustainable workforce for the largest employment sector in Sullivan County."

– Jay Quaintance,
SUNY Sullivan President

The practicum offers students the basic building blocks needed to sustain a career in a dynamic and ever-growing field, and students have the opportunity to gain first-hand knowledge of caring for individuals through their human services placement. Local agencies may offer credit for onboarding training, and students may also have the opportunity to live in sponsored housing during their practicum. Students may also choose to continue on to complete an Associates degree.

Alcoholism & Drug Abuse Counseling Program

This new AAS Degree program is designed to introduce students to a career working with individuals struggling with addiction.

SUNY Sullivan announces a new Associate of Applied Science Degree program in alcoholism and drug abuse counseling designed to introduce students to a career working with individuals struggling with addiction. The program also offers students an opportunity to pursue their New York State Credentialed Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Counselor certification (CASAC). SUNY Sullivan is an approved training provider of the New York State Office of Addiction Services and Support (OASAS).

"We are very excited to offer this important program here in Sullivan County. Our graduates will play an important role in combating the ongoing substance abuse crisis that limits resident's ability to live healthy, productive lives. By their education and professional efforts, they will make a positive impact on individuals, families and communities in Sullivan County and our region."

– Jay Quaintance,
SUNY Sullivan President

The AAS program provides the opportunity for students to complete the required 350-hour educational training and begin field placement hours as a first step to becoming CASAC certified. In New York State, OASAS oversees treatment for substance use disorders. In addition to major-specific coursework this program offers a Liberal Arts base to help prepare students for advanced degrees.

SPOTLIGHTS

Faculty Spotlight:

Ken Luck, SUNY Sullivan Communications Professor

Luck's new academic journal article, Emergence of Conspiracy Theories in Print Media, addresses Coronavirus conspiracy theories.

Mass media mentions of conspiracy theories appear to increase around major social, political and health-related developments, according to SUNY Sullivan Professor Kenneth Luck's recent research.

Luck's new academic journal article could help explain the challenges that government leaders and public health officials face in getting the public to follow coronavirus pandemic-related safety measures.

"People conspire to fill information vacuums related to big health events, political events and scientific breakthroughs. A pandemic like COVID-19 really fits the bill for an event for which people would conspire to fill in information."

– Ken Luck
SUNY Sullivan Professor

From 2017 to early 2019, Luck studied 15 conspiracy theories, from those surrounding President John F. Kennedy's assassination to 9/11 to public health crises. Using Google Books Ngram Viewer software, Luck analyzed millions of American books, magazines, and newspapers published between 1900 and 2008.

Luck's study, Emergence of Conspiracy Theories in Print Media, appears in the summer 2020 issue of the Journal of Applied Professional Studies, published by Marywood University in Northeast Pennsylvania.
